

Berthold Huppertz

Is Professor and Vice Head at the Institute of Cell Biology, Histology and Embryology, and Director of the Biobank at the Medical University Graz, Austria. He is a renowned placentologist. His main research interest is placental development and pregnancy pathologies such as preeclampsia and fetal growth restriction.